【5】You are interested in international volunteer activities. You are going to read the following article to understand what JOCV is.

JOCV (Japan Overseas Cooperation Volunteers) is a program that sends young people (age 20-39) overseas as volunteers. It started in 1966. Since then, more than 45,000 people (①) to about 90 countries, where people suffer from poverty, hunger, diseases, poor education and many other problems. The number of volunteers increased from about 111 in 1966 to about 1,800 in 2019.

What kinds of work are the volunteers engaged in? The volunteers were divided into seven work fields in 1966. Almost half of the volunteers worked in only one of the seven fields, *Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries. In the second place was Civil Engineering, and in the third was Maintenance. However, the situation has changed in the last 50 years. In 2019, the largest number of volunteers worked in the field of Education and Culture. The second place was taken by *Health and Hygiene, followed by Social Welfare.

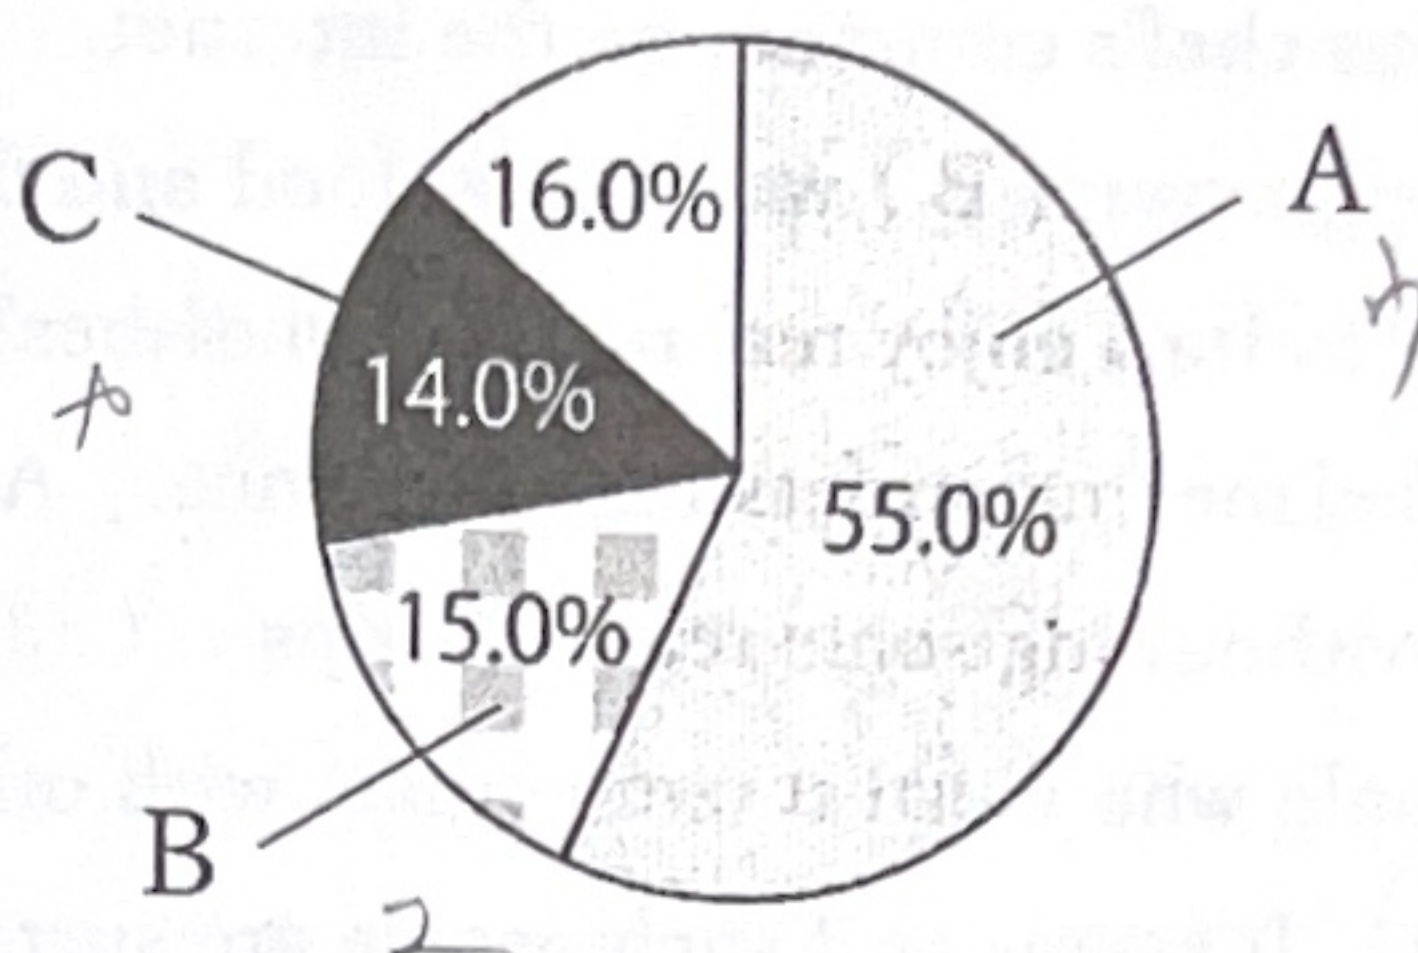

There are various activities in each field, and they have been expanding in a variety of ways. For example, activities related to HIV/AIDS awareness, (②) did not exist 50 years ago, are now a *crucial part of Health and Hygiene. (③) for Education and Culture, science and math teachers are badly needed. In some countries you can be a science or math teacher without a teacher's qualification. The participants are not limited only to experts such as nurses or car mechanics. At JOCV young people get opportunities to (④) good use of their hobbies or interests to help promote world peace and friendship.

- * Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries 「農林・水産」
Health and Hygiene 「保健衛生」 crucial 「重要な」

Real and Virtual Experience

John Horton

When I was a college student, I did a lot of traveling abroad. (①). She said, "Now is the time for you to travel around the world, expand your knowledge through actual experiences and have fun!" I agreed with her.

Since I started to work for a food company, (A), I have done most of my traveling via the Internet. By using the Internet, I have seen the sights of many cities on my computer screen. (②).

In this way, I was beginning to feel that actual trips were no longer necessary, when I happened to read a famous chef's comment on the Internet. He said, "It is very difficult to have real Italian food in a foreign country, (B) we eat food and the air around us at the same time. So why don't you fly over to Italy and enjoy real Italian dishes?"

Those words reminded me (C) my professor's advice. As information technology advances, you might be able to do without making some real trips. (③).

Today there are people who avoid direct contact with others and spend much of their time on the Internet. (④). It seems as if such people are surrounded by an invisible wall. They seem to be losing out on a good chance to meet and talk with other people.

I do not think that they are (D) good advantage of information technology. We should use information technology as a tool to make our daily communication more fruitful. (⑤). Let's make use of information technology more wisely, and (E) great fun in experiencing the actual world.

- ア But this also means that you will miss the various pleasures you can get from traveling.
- イ However, we should never let it reduce our time for face-to-face communication.
- ウ It is not surprising to see a group of people talking not with each other but into their cellular phone.
- エ That was because a professor encouraged me to do so.
- オ With the help of the Internet, I have also got information about food in different countries.

<選択肢2>

because however therefore of to with enjoy have take use
